

IT WAS THURMAN DAY

The Red Bandanna of Ohio Receives an Ovation

And Bears His Honors with Becoming Dignity.

Some Probability that He Will Yet be First Choice.

McDonald, of Indiana, is Still in Good Faith

And Will Get Either First or Second Place.

Cleveland Not in as Good Trim as His Friends Could Wish

Still He Has a Fighting Chance Left Him.

Bayard's Hopes Lie in the Loyalty of the South.

While Butler, Slocum, and Flower are About Forgotten.

Committee on Resolutions Making Decidedly Slow Work.

The Nominations Begin by the Presentation of Bayard by Delaware, Followed by the Presentation of McDonald by Hendricks, of Indiana, Both of Whose Names are Readily Applauded. Judge Thurman Nominated by John Breckinridge, of California, Amid Much Enthusiasm--Discretion on Candidates.

The Prelude.
CHICAGO, July 10.—Atmospherically, the second day of the Democratic National Convention opens no better than the first. Rain has been falling since an early hour this morning, the sky is still of a leaden hue, and the lake, on the edge of which the Convention Hall is situated, is shrouded in a London fog. Still, the ardor of the Democratic heart is neither chilled nor dampened. The crowd around the hotels are as large and as noisy as though nature were in her most pleasant mood, and at this writing, half an hour before the time for reassembling the pretentious galleries are packed and many of the delegates are in their seats. It is without doubt to be a day of hard work, of tinkering and dickering, and the probabilities are that before night is fallen, even if a letter is as fast as now, the leader of the Democratic party in the coming campaign will virtually have been decided upon. Since 8 o'clock he has claimed that Thurman's stock has visibly improved and that the chances of a victory of lightning reaching "The Red Bandanna" are more favorable than ever. The Cleveland men, however, are as confident as ever.

The committee on Resolutions and Credentials met at 7 a. m. and at this hour (10:50 a. m.) still in session.

Getting Together.
11 a. m.—Chairman Hubbard is not a moment behind. The hands of the clock have barely reached the hour and he is at his post calmly surveying the assemblage. A number of delegations have yet to arrive. That of Pennsylvania enters at 11 o'clock behind the American Club Band and the members salute ex-Speaker Hendricks on the United Press table that the Committee on Credentials is ready to report, but that he has no word from that on resolutions.

This is sufficient, however, to enable the proceedings to have a start.

of national airs and is about through with "America" when Thurman makes his appearance. Instantly the immense throng in its feet and cheer after cheer rent the air. It is the most striking and spontaneous demonstration since the Convention opened. Time and again the demonstration is repeated with the Ministerial, Hendricks, Voorhees, Senator Jones, and many others crowd around and grasp his hand. Then there is an interval of confusion during which the Massachusetts delegation enters unobserved. General Butler has not yet arrived.

At 11:30 Chairman Hubbard rapped for order and introduced the Right Rev. W. S. McClarn, D. D., Bishop of Chicago.

The Chairman requested the audience to rise as the venerable minister arises and repeats

THE LORD'S PRAYER.
It is a striking scene. Thirteen thousand people on their feet with heads bowed in reverence, while in low and impressive tones the Bishop follows by invoking the blessing of God upon the proceedings and prays for the blessings of the almighty to rest upon the Convention and the noblest of men in the Convention. The prayer is a printed one, evidently prepared for the occasion, and concludes with the benediction.

At 11:30 the Convention was again called to order and Jenkins, of Wisconsin, reported that the Committee on Resolutions would not be able to report until tomorrow and asked that they be permitted to sit during the Convention. Agreed to.

Committee of Massachusetts, moves that the Committee on Resolutions be directed to give a hearing to the Committee of Irish National League on the question of ownership of land by aliens.

Harrington, of Missouri, moves for a resolution denouncing corrupt labor.

Powers, of Michigan, submits a resolution that it is the sense of the Convention that the action of the Convention on Grady's resolution was only intended to apply to States which instructed their delegates to vote as a unit. All the above and several more were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

The report of the Credentials Committee was next made. The committee reported in the case of the contested Twelfth District of Massachusetts in favor of Messrs. Kellum, McClelland, Perry and Blalock as entitled to seats. The committee also reported in favor of entitling delegates from Territories to seats and votes in the Convention.

The amendment was voted down and the report of the committee adopted.

McArthur, of Oregon, made a short spirited appeal for the right of Territorial delegates to give a vote to the wishes of their constituents. The amendment was voted down and the report of the committee adopted.

This adds eighteen votes in the Convention and makes it necessary for the successful candidate to receive 225 votes.

Barford Smith, of Utah, submitted a resolution against polygamy. Cheered and referred.

Ward Hampton, of South Carolina, offered a resolution empowering the National Committee to go outside its own members if it fell in the selection of a chairman. Referred.

Mr. Jolly, of New York, submits a resolution for the unqualified revision of the tariff in the interest of the people as against monopolies. Referred.

12:15—Over half an hour was occupied by the presentation of various resolutions intended to rank in the platform. All were referred.

A resolution was offered to make the nomination for President at 3 o'clock this afternoon. There was a close vote but it was lost.

Resolutions were also offered and referred by Boyd, of Nebraska, favoring a reduction of the tariff.

By Miller, of Ohio, making the Presidential term six years.

For Perkins, Connecticut, pledging fidelity to the Constitution.

By Higgins, of Nebraska, limiting homesteads to 160 acres each.

By Shelby, of Kentucky, that the roll be called at 3 p. m. to-day for nominations for President. Lost.

By Hillier, of Georgia, favoring a tariff reform and a reduction to a sum only necessary for the support of the Government.

PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.
The Committee on Permanent Organization reported Colonel W. F. Vilas, of Wisconsin, and Vice President from every State. Vilas name was greeted with prolonged cheering.

COL. W. F. VILAS
The Permanent Chairman is an able lawyer of Wisconsin, well-known throughout the State, and said to be one of the best extemporaneous speakers in that country. He is aged about 70, and well preserved for his years, of fine carriage and commanding presence. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, and noted for his gallantry.

The President named a distinguished committee, including Smith Weed and Hendricks, to escort Mr. Vilas to the chair. His reception is in the nature of a triumphal ovation long continued, the Chair ordering the band to give a patriotic air.

VILAS SPEECH.
Mr. Vilas said: "Gentlemen, I know well that this mark of your favor is no personal compliment, but a recognition of the young Democracy of the Northwest (applause), and I claim it is a justly due tribute to the lofty soul and patriotic struggle against an out-numbering foe, and I hail it as a promise of coming triumph. (Applause). But I am proud to be selected as a delegate to your representative, and I tender hearty thanks for the honor. No pledge is required of my people's devotion. As it has been, so will it abide, pure, unselfish, resolute and unflinching, till its great object is secured, the restoration of upright and constitutional government. (Applause).

"You are assembled to consider a great cause and pronounce momentous judgment. Your hand is on the helm of a mighty and free nation. It is in your power to lay its course in felicity for years, freighted with its vast humanity. The importance and value of its decision lies not in mere party victory, or the spoils of office. The hour is pregnant with mighty possibilities of good to men. Constitutional liberty, ending and injustice, calls aloud for resecration to purity and power. (Applause). An assemblage of licentious politicians. Recently filled the hall, too well manufactured to be the product of infant industry. (Laughter). They insidiously claim the confidence of power, and have used a variety of rock of promise, to redress disorders they have themselves communicated to the body politic. (Applause). They offer the education as a cure for the disease. They tender nothing adequate to the needs of a country rejoicing in the hope of renewed growth and peace and a new prosperity. They offer the inspiration of national misfortune to a people demanding deliverance from corruption. To an earnest and pure youth they offer a corrupt party machinery. To the clanking artisan they offer 'the year masters' villain and ye shall have bread.' (Applause). 'Soap' is their inspiration and stimulation. The duties of this hour rises far above partisanship. (Applause). How shall we most surely rescue the Republic from the clutches of a party? No one man has the slightest personal right to a preference or should stand a moment in the way of such a choice (great applause) as will surely place us in solid array before a country which demands reform." (Applause).

Mr. Clark concluded with a passionate appeal for devotion to the principles of the Democratic party.

Mr. Mumford, of Louisiana, Mr. Lerue, of California, and others submitted resolutions which were referred without reading.

Mr. Souder, of Pennsylvania, offers a resolution to call the roll of States for nominations. A point of order was made, but the chair overruled the point of order that the resolution is out of order.

General Clunie, of California, declares that they can't nominate until they have a platform.

After further discussion the call of States was ordered on the proposition of Mr. Souder that nominations be made at once.

The following is the vote on a motion to say on the table the resolution to proceed with immediate nominations:

Alabama, aye 1; no 19.
Arkansas, aye 1; no 23.
California, aye 10.
Colorado, aye 6.
Connecticut, aye 13.
Delaware, aye 8.
Florida, aye 8.
Georgia, aye 8; no 16.
Illinois, aye 17; no 23.
Indiana, aye 30.
Iowa, aye 13; no 23.
Kansas, aye 13; no 23.
Kentucky, aye 17; no 23.
Louisiana, aye 10.
Maine, aye 8; no 8.
Maryland, aye 11; no 7.
Massachusetts, aye 6; no 13.
Michigan, aye 26.
Minnesota, aye 14.
Missouri, aye 11; no 7.
Missouri, aye 11; no 7.
Nebraska, aye 1; no 8.
Nevada, aye 6.
New Hampshire, aye 8.
New Jersey, aye 14; no 8.
New York, aye 72.
Great cheering the vote of New York.

Great cheering. Grady is hauled down and the Chair refuses his challenge. There is a perfect pandemonium. A dozen delegates on their feet at once. Immense hissing. Gal. series packed with Grady men, who are clamoring for his recall is now resumed.)

North Carolina, aye 23.
Ohio, aye 19; no 14.
Oregon, aye 1; no 1.
Pennsylvania, aye 24; no 33.
Rhode Island, aye 1; no 1.
South Carolina, aye 19; no 7.
Tennessee, aye 20; no 1.
Texas, aye 14; no 12.
Vermont, aye 8.
Virginia, aye 24.
West Virginia, aye 2; no 10.
Wisconsin, aye 23.
Arizona, aye 2.
District of Columbia, aye 2.
Idaho, aye 3.
Maine, aye 3.
New Mexico, aye 2.
Utah, aye 2.
Washington Territory, aye 2.

1:40 p. m.—Grady was recognized to state his reasons for challenging the vote of New York. He says the vote is 10 aye and 40 nay, with four not voting.

Mr. Manning repeats that the vote is 72 aye. The Chair rules that the challenge is invalid. The Chair decides that New York must vote as a unit. (Great applause.)

Kentucky changes her vote to aye 24; no 2.
California changes to aye 13; no 1.
Kansas changes to aye 5; no 13.
Wisconsin changes to aye 20, making the connected total vote 863, divided as follows: Yea 281; nay 581.

The motion to lay on the table is consequently lost. The question now is on proceeding with an immediate nomination.

Mr. Clunie, of California, moves that no ballot be taken until a platform is adopted.

A call of States for nominations ordered by a large vote.

Mr. Harrison moves to adjourn till 7 p. m. and demands the call of the States.

1:50 p. m.—The call of the States, on the motion to adjourn, moves that the Convention resolve to allow Harrison to withdraw his resolution.

1:50 p. m.—The resolution to adjourn until 7 p. m. is defeated.

Mr. Clunie, of California, moves to adjourn until 10:30 to-morrow morning. Lost.

1:55 p. m.—There is a pandemonium again. Twenty delegates on their feet trying to move an adjournment and the Chairman is powerless to obtain order.

1:56 p. m.—Mumford's resolution to adjourn till 8 p. m. is also lost.

A motion was then made to adjourn until 11 a. m., but was defeated.

1:59 p. m.—Philosophy is now proceeding.

2 p. m.—Leon Abbott, of New Jersey, demands order. The galleries have complete control of the Convention and the excitement runs high.

2:03 p. m.—A call of the States for the nomination of candidates is now proceeding.

2:04 p. m.—The greatest uproar prevails in the Convention as Delaware is called. The people are absolutely bent themselves with excitement, and the confusion and great good nature exceeds anything witnessed during the Republican Convention last month.

Attorney General G. T. Gray, of Delaware, at 2:05 p. m., arises to nominate Thomas F. Bayard. (Cheers.)

2:07 p. m.—Gray pictures the kind of a candidate that is required by the Democratic party to bring victory in November, and announces the career of the Republican party and characterizes Blaine and his platform as a fitting culmination of the aims of the party. It flung defiance into the face of the American people and it was the sign of the decadence of a great party. The Democracy of the country demands a standard bearer is a man who has been tried in the balance and never found wanting. It demands a statesman of wisdom and experience. They offer an undoubted courage with no false pretense or personal dishonesty, a man of stainless honor who will strike corruption with the force of the electric light of hostile criticism and defy the tongue of slander. A man who in public and private character is the very opposite of the Republican nominee. Such a man was Thomas F. Bayard. (Great applause, long continued.) The speaker, concluding, added: "We have selected a modest unassuming of arbitrary power toward many States better than he had! How could they afford to pass him by? What account could the give to the Democracy? His nomination would silence the voices of factions and secure the support of the united Democracy. (Moderate cheering.)"

2:25 p. m.—The call of States proceeds. Indiana is named amid great cheering as Hendricks nominated McDonald. The scene is inspiring. The whole Convention shouts itself wild. All the delegations are on their chairs. Cheers for Hendricks repeated again and again. The chair appeals for order, but the cheers are renewed again and again. Hendricks says this is his last appearance as a delegate to a political convention. He feels a delicacy and responsibility in the position. The nominee of this Convention is to be chosen President, and he will be the first inaugurated Democratic President for twenty years. He proceeded to read a set speech in which he arraigned the Republican party and reviewed its actions while in power.

McKenzie at 3:30 nominated J. G. Carlisle. 3:40 p. m.—The Convention resolves to adjourn, on motion made by Carter Harrison.

Prospects of Candidates Considered.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Before the Convention met this morning the feeling about the hotel corridors was that Tilden's hair had drawn near the goal. The supporters of Cleveland were in high spirits and confident, while the faces of the opposition and their tones in conversation betokened ill-concealed anxiety, the fact that the combination of Cleveland failed to carry its point against the Cleveland forces had not been without its effect. It was clear that Cleveland had been strengthened, the field weakened, and Tammany humiliated. Last night was one of work, scheme and combination. The Cleveland men took the lead. Though jubilant and confident, they relaxed no effort. The large corps of trained workers watched every corner and made every possible point. Men were sent to every doubtful delegation. They labored with the great leverage of seeming victory in their hands, and claim their work bore good results.

This morning the field appeared as badly scattered as ever before. Efforts were made at combination and concentration, but without result so far as could be discovered. The combination of Bayard and McDonald was earnestly advocated by friends of the former, but it was pronounced a weak suggestion. The two might make a formidable combination, but the same sources—the South and the revenue reform element. Besides, when McDonald drops his aspirations for first place and seeks second, he knows of a more powerful yoke mate than Bayard. A proposition to make the ticket McDonald and Bayard is prevented by Bayard's unwillingness to take a second place.

Nobody seems to want anything to do with Butler and his name was not seriously considered.

Justice Field is without strength and the indications are his name will not be put forward at all.

Randall is out of the question in this connection.

Most promising combination is McDonald and Slocum, but its weakness is Slocum's inability to deliver any vote. His Brooklyn friends necessarily abandoned him when they joined the Cleveland ranks. McDonald can't get enough strength in New York to make an advantageous alliance. His Indiana friends seek one in vain.

For a time it looked as though Thurman had the best chance of defeating Cleveland. As the one man upon whom the field could rely. He is everywhere admired and respected. California will present him, and if Ohio should give him solid endorsement the race would be between Cleveland and Thurman. Thurman is strong everywhere save in his own State. His friends are not on a "hiss," though they have made great gains this summer.

Governor Hilkey is a candidate and will be presented by Ohio with twenty-seven votes back him.

There was renewed talk last night of McLean joining Thurman, in which event the ex-Secretary might have a considerable influence. But the editor from Cincinnati assures his colleagues that he is for Hooley, and the Governor's management expresses confidence in his fidelity. It was whispered about, but stoutly denied, that McLean realizes the strategic importance of his position and is tempted to make the jump to Thurman. But the boom received a set-back when twenty-seven Ohio delegates met in caucus and decided to support Cleveland. In the field of anti-Cleveland possibilities Thurman cut mine of a figure last night and this morning, so far as the managers were concerned, then McDonald or Bayard. Even Cleveland's non-availability was lost sight of. Cincinnati was something of a storm center. John E. Thompson and other Thurman men worked hard to get up an "anything-to-beat-Cleveland" movement.

Clearly Bayard had developed much greater strength than McDonald, and is the leader of the opposition. Nearly all his votes are from the South. The South has exhibited a tendency to concentrate on Bayard. It is not to get another southern man for President. Among themselves the Thurman managers say Bayard cannot be nominated, but are constantly making appeals to his followers to stand firm. Their scheme is said to be to use Bayard to hold the South long enough to break Cleveland down when the time comes. Thurman would be the choice. Supporters of the New Yorker maintain that the conviction is spreading among the southerners that Bayard cannot be nominated, and the labor of the Cleveland corps are bearing fruit.

The extent to which Cleveland's vote is inflated by the vote on the rule resolution has received a full share of consideration. Some delegates opposed to Cleveland voted to sustain the rule and vice versa, but the variations are believed to be not of much importance. Imperial estimates place the Governor's strength as follows:

Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 14; Colorado, 2; Connecticut, 12; Florida, 8; Georgia, 10; Illinois, 30; Iowa, 22; Kansas, 15; Kentucky, 8; Louisiana, 14; Maine, 12; Maryland, 10; Massachusetts, 5; Michigan, 26; Minnesota, 14; Missouri, 24; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 8; New Jersey, 14; New York, 72; North Carolina, 14; Oregon, 6; Rhode Island, 8; South Carolina, 18; Tennessee, 6; Texas, 16; Vermont, 8; Virginia, 18; West Virginia, 9; Wisconsin, 27; total, 484.

Of the remaining 273 votes Bayard has

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

THURSDAY EVE., JULY 10, 1884.

New York bankers estimate the shrinkage in stock since July 1, 1881, at $1,500,000,000.

Bay Lewis, known all over the United States as a lightning circus ticket-seller, died at Columbus, Ohio.

The steamship Great Eastern will be in the New Orleans harbor during the exposition and will be used as a hotel.

At Leicester, England, a short time ago, twenty person had their household goods sold at auction because they had not paid the fine imposed on all who refuse to have their children vaccinated. Meetings were called and condemnatory resolutions passed.

It is an undoubted truth that American detectives are far superior in their work of running down criminals to the boasted detectives of either England or France. What Americans lack in tainting they more than make up in good horse sense and courage.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue issued an order dispensing with the services of fifteen Collectors of Internal Revenue as required by the new law, reducing the number from thirty-five to twenty. Among the collectors dismissed are Isham Young and C. B. Harrison, of Tennessee; John M. Burns and James A. Ray, of Kentucky; J. B. McCoy, Wisconsin; John M. Raum, Illinois; Jasper Packard and J. L. Trumbull, of Indiana; W. L. Hallister, Minnesota; James E. Larding New Hampshire.

Dr. Koch, one of the first physicians of Europe, says the disease at Tonlon Marsellies is a Asiatic cholera, and that it must spread. The history of the dread disease shows that it defies quarantine regulations, and that even military cordons fail to arrest its advance. There is nothing left but to prepare for the visitation. It may be shown of some of its worst features by proper sanitary regulations. Cleanliness of person and premises, clean streets and abatement of all nuisances under the control of the city, are of the first importance.

The following is from the Clark County Democrat: Judge Riddell said that when the Know-nothing party was organized in his county, a motion was offered to admit every man in the county to membership in the party. When the vote was taken three men, and only three were black-balled. These three were Joe Bruner, of this county, Judge Riddell and his father. The reason given for black-balling them was that these three men were too strong in Democratic faith to make good members of the new organization. This, of course, puts an end to this report which might have done Judge Riddell injury. He never was a Know-nothing, never wanted to be, and if he had wanted to could not have been.

That influential Republican paper, Puck, says: "That curse is upon us, and the great party that has so long guided the nation may now indeed set its house in order and prepare for the end; and the end close at hand." And now that we are so near to the end, we feel the indignity that has been put upon us? There is only one course to take, and the conscience of the plainest man may tell him what that is. To swear in our own souls that, whatever may be the noise and ridicule of those who can take their disgrace lightly, we will fight by vote, by argument, by speech, and by writing, by all fair and honest means against the consummation of the wrong that is proposed by those who would put James Blaine into the chair of Abraham Lincoln. And if the great party must die, let it die under the daggers of its own sons who kill it to save it from the worst dishonor."

SAYS THE NEW YORK SUN: So long as there is a republic there must be a Democratic party. The party of centralization, bent always upon enlarging the sphere and aggrandizing the importance of the central power, stands on one side, and the party of the masses, of liberty and equality, stand on the other. The fact that the Republicans triumph in one election after another only renders the continuance of the Democracy more necessary—more indispensable. In every free commonwealth there is as great a need for an opposition as for a Government; and though the Republicans should continue to hold the keys of power and place for another quarter of a century, the Democrats will continue to oppose their principles and resist their development. They may continue for a long time, and on many fields, to fight none but losing battles, and the tired and exhausted veterans may sadly drop out of the ranks and disappear. But new recruits, young, ardent, disinterested, believing in liberty and devoted to the republic, will rise to take their places. No calamity can extinguish Democracy; no error of those who are temporarily intrusted with its leadership can break it; it is immortal.

Cleveland a Poor Man.
BUFFALO, July 10.—It has been generally supposed by a majority of people that Grover Cleveland was a wealthy man. He has always lived in style, boarding at the Tenth House, where, and the center of a group of bachelor friends, all of whom are possessed of independent fortunes. Since his election as Governor, but especially since his nomination as a candidate of the Democratic party for President, this rumor has assumed more than its former proportions. It has for a few days been largely upon by prominent anti-monopolists and labor leaders that the Governor was possessed of a fortune of over $100,000, upon a greater part of which he paid no taxes.

To gain some information upon this vexed subject your correspondent this afternoon visited the treasury office and made a thorough investigation. It was found that the books there made the Governor's fortune far smaller than do his enemies. The sum total against him is a tax upon $5,000 worth of personal property. No mention of any real or landed estate is made and it is safe to say he owns none inside the corporate lands of the city. It cannot be truthfully said that Governor Cleveland of a hurtful amount of property.

TRULY TOUCHING.
Many Senates Suddenly Changed to World Loneliness.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The halls of Congress are already deserted. The janitor is cleaning and locking up. Hardly half a dozen Congressmen remain in the Capitol today, and none remained any length of time. None of the Committees which were authorized to sit during recess will do any work for weeks to come. Most of the Senators and Representatives have gone to Chicago or home, leaving perhaps a score or so of their colleagues behind, and they will soon leave Washington. Vice President Edmunds has gone to Vermont. Senator Bayard left for his home in Delaware to-day.

Ballooning Safely Limited.
MONTREAL, July 10.—Professor Grimes, the aeronaut, was killed in a balloon on Friday evening, reached here Tuesday. They landed in a potato patch during a severe storm for home in the evening. Their greatest height was 14,800 feet, where, although a buzzing in the ears was experienced, no other uncomfortable sensations were felt.

An Actress Killed.
NEW YORK, July 10.—Jennie Neville, an actress lately playing in "Hazel Kirke," was knocked down at Fifth avenue and Fourth street this afternoon by a runaway horse and received injuries from which she died shortly after. The deceased was a resident of St. Louis, Missouri, and only arrived in this city last week.

Stove Works Suspended.
BUFFALO, July 10.—The stove works of Shuman S. Jewett & Co., shut down to-day showing $60,000 out of work. It is expected to be only temporary.

IS THE TIME NOW TO CURE SKIN HUMORS.

It is at this season when the pores open freely and the perspiration is abundant that discharging humors, irritating eruptions, itching tortures, salt rheum or eczema, scurfy, scalds, and other skin diseases, scrofula, scrofulous sores, abscesses, and discharging wounds, and every species of itching, scaling, and pimply disease of the skin and scalp, may be cured by CUTICURA SOAP, the great skin cure, and beautifier, externally, in one half the time and one half the expense of any other season.

IT IS A FACT.
Hundreds of letters to our possession (copied which may be had by postal mail) are our authority for the assertion that skin, scrofula, and every species of skin diseases, inherited or contagious, may now be permanently cured by CUTICURA SOAP, the new blood purifier. Internally, and CUTICURA SOAP, the great skin cure, and beautifier, externally, in one half the time and one half the expense of any other season.

GREATNESS ON EARTH.
CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medical boon to the world. Had the worst case of skin disease in this country. My mother had it many years, and in 1860, died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My mother was cured by CUTICURA in three years, which nothing relieved or cured until used CUTICURA. Internally, and CUTICURA SOAP externally. J. W. ADAMS, Newark, O.

GREAT BLOOD MEDICINES.
The half a century of the great curative powers of the Cuticura Remedies, I have used hundreds of bottles for the cure of diseases of the Blood and skin, and never fail and anything yet to equal the Cuticura remedies. H. W. ADAMS, Newark, O.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.
Your Cuticura Remedies ought all other remedies. I have used them for many years and patients say that they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies failed. H. W. ADAMS, Newark, O.

'Now the anger drops his hook
In the steady, patient brook;
And he waits for a bite,
From the morning till the night.
But the bite it cometh not,
And he curseth at his lot.
Bull, homeward doth he lie,
With a most enormous lie.'

A DESPATCH from Vancuburg says that the Democrats called a delegated convention on last Saturday, but afterwards changed it to a mass meeting, at which George T. Hoberter made a motion to join with the Republicans and divide the county offices. Senator Bruce, it is said, seconded the motion and it was carried. Thomas Bullock was nominated as the Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Common Schools with the understanding that the Democrats were not to nominate a candidate for Sheriff but support S. H. Parker, a Republican. The movement is said to have been engineered by Judge Thomas.

Fay Sewell's Shame.

Louisville Post.
Fay Sewell has been the bad at St. Louis and has thereby confirmed the opinion formed of her at the time of her discovery on Lafayette street. After remaining two or three days at a boarding house in St. Louis, she sought the direction of a guided palace of infamy, and immediately upon the discovery of the information, betook herself to it. She was determined to enter upon the ruinous course, and all the efforts of the good people who interposed in her behalf were of no avail.

Others Ahead of Them.

New York Sun.
A gentleman having a large sum of money in his possession was followed down Broadway by a couple of pickpockets. He finally turned into Wall street.
"I say, Bill," whispered one, "We've got to work the job pretty quick."
When the gentleman reached Broadway he entered a broker's office.
"What'll we do now," wait until he comes out?"
"Now," said said the first speaker, much disgusted. "It wouldn't do any good. We are too late; the broker will get it all."

Dangerous to be Large.

Gentlemen—There is some mistake in this gas bill.
Gas Collector—No, sir, the bill is all right. It is according to the meter.
Gentlemen—It's the wrong meter. I certainly burned more gas than that last month.
Gas Collector—Wh-wh-what's that, sir?
Gentlemen—The meter is wrong. I say I certainly burned more gas than that last month.
Gas Collector—(turning pale and edging toward the door)—Very well, sir, very well. Don't get excited, sir; keep quiet; calm yourself. Everything will be made all right. I'll return, sir.
The collector then bounced down the stairs and shouted for help. Four policemen responded, and moving cautiously up the stairs they secured the maniac and got him safely to a lunatic asylum. But little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Where Blackburn Met His Baby.

Four days before I went to the front with my regiment we had a little girl baby. She is now grown and you always see her with me at any social gathering. Well, in our army the thing was very rare. When we got into line there was no great chance for a man to get home. I was the first to go forward that a few of us were one night going down the Mississippi on a river steamer. I had been sick and was returning to my company but pretty well broken up even then. As for money, we did not have any, and the night was almost parched with thirst. Pretty soon a little girl came along with a big glass of lemonade. I tell you it looked good to me. She saw me lying there, she came, looked doubtfully at me, and finally came up to my side. "You looked as if you wanted something to drink," she said, and offered me the glass. It wasn't the square thing to do, but I took it and handed it back to her empty. It was like nectar to me. Then I thanked the little creature and sent her away. Soon after just like every little child, she came back, leading her mother to see the poor soldier. By Jupiter, it was my wife. And the girl was the baby whom I had last seen as a baby but just born. You can imagine the reunion. They were with me and I happened to be going down the river. That was the only time during the four years' fighting that I saw my wife and baby, and under the circumstances what man would ever forget it?

Cushioned in Rosy Gums, enclosed in lips that part in smiles like the opening rosybud, the teeth gleam with dazzling whiteness if the charming possum uses beautifying Sossodont, which cleanses and whitens the teeth without abrading their enamel like mineral preparations designed for the same purpose. This agreeably odorous and salutary article not only benefits the teeth and enhances the beauty of the mouth, but removes canker and remedies ulceration of the gums.

Lost Faith in Physicians.

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Scoville's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, for all diseases of the blood, when they had been given over by their physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take this medicine for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is enclosed by leading professional men.

Papillon Cough Cure cured an infant only a few weeks old of whooping cough, after a consultation by physicians pronounced it beyond recovery. It stops the whoop and allows the breath to return. For sale by J. James Wood and J. C. Pecor & Co.

Hennessy's Penicillinized Beef Tonic the only preparation of beef containing its entire nutritious value. It contains blood-making, force generating and the essential properties available for indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all forms of debility.
